or post-trial hearings for a future time.

- a. Any labeling, segregation, or designation of Discovery Material as "Confidential Material" should be made, whenever possible, in the case of written, tangible, or documentary Discovery Material, at the time that Discovery Material is produced or made known to defendant by marking the Discovery Material "CONFIDENTIAL" in a manner that is readily distinguishable from any pre-existing confidential designation or by otherwise manifesting the intention that the Discovery Material be considered Confidential Material. Computer memory storage materials such as tapes, diskettes, hard drives, or other memory media containing Discovery Material deemed by the United States as containing Confidential Material, shall be labeled on the outside of the media as

"CONFIDENTIAL." The Government shall maintain unlabeled, or "clean" copies of all discovery counsel in the above-captioned case and furnished, at this time, to no one other than defendant's counsel in the above-captioned case, defendant, the staff supporting defendant's counsel in the above-captioned case such as interpreters, paralegal assistants, and secretarial, stenographic, and clerical employees who counsel wishes to consult an expert regarding these materials, the procedure for doing so is addressed in paragraph 8 of this agreement. All such material shall be kept in the offices of defendant's counsel in the above-captioned case and neither this material nor any copies of this material shall leave that office for any purpose except submission in camera to the Court. Should defendant be detained prior to resolution of the Indictment, his counsel may bring the designated confidential material to the facility in which he

- 4. The recipient of any Confidential Material that is provided under this Stipulated Interim Protective Order shall keep such information in a manner reasonably intended to preserve and maintain the confidentiality of the information and shall not disclose such information to any individuals except as authorized by this Stipulated Interim Protective Order.

- 5. At the conclusion of the above-captioned case, defendant and his counsel in the above-captioned case agree to return or certify the destruction of all Confidential Material to the United States, except as directed by the Court.
- 6. Nothing herein shall prevent defendant from using the Confidential Material or from referring to, quoting, or reciting from any information contained in such Confidential Material in connection with pleadings or motions filed in this case, provided that such materials be filed under seal and/or submitted to the Court for in camera inspection. The use of Confidential Material at trial or pre- or post-trial hearing will be resolved at or before the time of the trial or hearing.
- 7. Should a defendant dispute the propriety of any designation of Discovery Material as Confidential Material, his counsel shall notify the United States in writing. Such notice shall state counsel's position with regard to the matter in issue. Within seven business days from receiving the notice, the United States shall respond to the notice in writing. If, after this exchange of correspondence, the defendant and the United States cannot resolve their dispute, they may apply to the Court to do so. During the pendency of the dispute and any court resolution thereof, including an appeal of the Court's decision on such motion, the discovery material shall be deemed "CONFIDENTIAL" as designated and shall be covered by the provisions of this Stipulated Interim Protective Order. The parties understand that, as this Stipulated Interim Protective Order is primarily intended to facilitate pretrial negotiations, the defendant and their counsel may choose not to formally challenge the Government's designation of certain material as confidential at this stage in the proceeding. Such a failure to challenge the confidential designation does not constitute a waiver on the defendant's part of either the ability to challenge that confidential designation or the ability to contest that certain portions of the designated confidential material constitutes "trade secret" information under 18 U.S.C. § 1839(3) or is personally identifiable information, including information that is subject to Federal Rule of Criminal Procedure 49.1.

8. At such time as a defendant retains an expert or experts to assist in the review of the Confidential Material, each such person shall execute the Acknowledgment included with this Stipulated Interim Protective Order, which shall then be submitted to the Court ex parte and in camera by the defendant. Defendant shall not be required to provide said Acknowledgment, or the identity of the expert who signed it, to the United States, unless so ordered by the Court. The United States retains the right to request that the Court authorize such disclosure. Nothing in this paragraph relieves the defendant of the discovery obligations contained in Fed. R. Crim. P. 16 (b)(1)(C), nor does the United States waive any rights thereunder by entering into this stipulation.

9. By signing and agreeing to the terms of this Stipulated Interim Protective Order, no person shall be deemed to have conceded that any material has been properly designated as confidential. Nothing in this order shall preclude the United States or defendant from applying to the Court for further relief or modification. The parties agreement to enter into this Stipulated Interim Protective Order at his time is for the purpose of pretrial negotiations is not a concession by the defendant that the terms contained herein would be appropriate should the case proceed beyond that stage.
